

Priority access to COVID-19 booster vaccination available to community-based registrants

As part of the provincial effort to prevent the spread of COVID-19, the Immunize BC team has now shared the timeline and process for registrants and their staff working in the community—categorized as “community health care workers”—to get priority access to COVID-19 vaccination booster doses.

In early January 2022, community health care workers will be invited to receive their booster, based on their interval from their Dose 2 vaccination.

For CNPBC, this will apply to registrants working in community settings; registrants working in acute and residential care settings have already received information on accessing their booster shots.

If you are eligible for priority access as a community-based health care worker, you will need to TAKE ACTION NOW to get a priority access booster shot, including sharing information with staff/colleagues in your office/practice/business.

The College also urges any registrant who has not yet been vaccinated to register with BC’s Get Vaccinated system to book their first appointment and encourage any unvaccinated office staff/colleagues to book their first or second dose.

CNPBC has sent information to our registrants with details from Immunize BC on how to register for the community health care worker booster vaccination list. Please check your email inbox for Covid-19 Vaccine Booster, sent by CNPBC on December 17, 2021.

For College registrants who employ others, please share this information with your staff so they can also register for their booster shot.

Registration for this booster program requires a special Target Population Access Code, which is included in the letter from Immunize BC. The self-identification code is confidential and intended only for health care workers – it is not transferable, and anyone who is not eligible to use this code will be turned away at the vaccination clinic.

For more information about Immunize BC’s booster vaccination priority access program, visit the BC Government’s Get your booster dose webpage or phone their call centre at 1-833-838-2323 (available daily 7 am to 7 pm (PST)).
